

Jordan has an innate passion for children's stories, driven by a love for their captivating wonder and enchantment. As a performer, he aspires to infuse his craft with that whimsical, childlike playfulness.

By training at The Con, he has honed his acting abilities and expanded his expertise in devising and producing works for the Anywhere Theatre Festival. Collaborating with the Winton Film Festival and Griffith Film School has also allowed him to explore the world of filmmaking. Ever eager for fresh experiences and projects, Jordan continually seeks to enhance his repertoire and refine his skills in both theater and film. While he is open to a wide range of projects, his heart will always have a special affinity for the peculiar and extraordinary.