

Breanna Kelly is a non binary actor and theatre-maker based on Gadigal land. They fell in love with story telling at a very young age, which is glaringly evident in the plethora of iMovie films their sisters reluctantly helped to make. Growing up in Canberra, Breanna was heavily involved in the local theatre scene for 10 years, performing in plays such as Little Women, Pride and Prejudice and Dags. Breanna also participated in a number of new work developments with Canberra Youth Theatre (under Luke Rogers), which awoke their strong love for new Australian works. Choosing to further their study at Sydney Actors School was a no-brainer. Whilst studying Breanna was fortunate enough to work with creatives such as Garth Holcombe, Pip Edwards, Kim Hardwick, Lyn Pierce and Anna Houston. They were also selected as a finalist for an Easy Tiger internship through the MEAA Breanna loves getting to tell stories we haven't heard before, using art in unique ways to start important conversations.
