

Erin Thomas

Ph: 0450 003 827 | erinannettethomas@gmail.com

Erin Annette Denise Thomas, born on the 25th of June 2002, is a 21-year-old Sydney based actress. She was born in Westmead, New South Wales, Australia, to parents Amanda and Nigel Thomas. As a fresh face in the professional industry, her experience in the field of acting has already earned her substantial recognition and acclaim.

Erin's passion for acting led her to The Academy of Film, Theatre, and Television (AFTT) under JMC Academy, where she diligently pursued a Bachelor's degree in Creative Arts (Acting). Her academic years were the stepping stones to a promising career in the entertainment industry.

Throughout her blossoming career, Erin has left an indelible mark on the stage. Notably, in 2021, she graced the boards of AFTT in the production of "Taming of The Shrew," where she breathed life into the character 'Gremio.' Under the skilful direction of Huw McKinnon from Bell Shakespeare, Erin's performance shone with nuance and dedication.

In 2022, Erin's talent for captivating audiences extended to the downstairs Belvoir Theatre in "This Restless House," a production in which she portrayed the complex character 'Cassandra.' Under the guidance of Anthony Skuse, director, and head of Performance at Actors Centre Australia (ACA), Erin delivered a truly compelling performance.

Within a month of graduating AFTT, she was successful in securing the lead role, Sara Pieridae, in upcoming Australian Psychological Thriller, "The Killing Dark" surpassing numerous young actresses in the audition process. The film is scheduled for an early 2024 theatrical release, both locally and internationally, with subsequent availability for streaming on Paramount+ and Netflix.

Erin's artistic talents extend beyond acting. She began her journey as a singer at the age of five, becoming a dedicated member of the Australian Girls' Choir for eight years. Proceeding this, she refined her vocal skills through three years of private coaching. In addition to live performances, Erin has independently released a number of originally written, produced, and recorded songs on platforms including Spotify and Apple Music.

Erin's multifaceted talents and dedication to her craft make her a rising star in the entertainment industry to watch keenly. With each new performance, she leaves a significant impression in the world of acting and music, connecting with audiences on a broad scale.