

Jordan Chodziesner is a Melbourne based actor, and a graduate of the National Theatre Drama School. He has both TVC and theatrical credits, the latter including Peter Archer in the National Theatre Drama School's production of Louis Nowra's The Golden Age, Alfieri in Arthur Miller's A View from the Bridge, Orestes in The Greeks, Jack Worthing in Oscar Wilde's The importance of being Earnest, and Ross in David Williamson's The Removalists. Jordan's training has ranged from classical Greek and Shakespeare plays, to intensive screen acting workshops. Jordan also has experience in writing; being one of the head writers and lead actor in his graduating year's devised performance called "You, Again".
