Isabella Raffaele is an actress, writer and plus-size/curve model from Melbourne, Victoria.

From a young age, Isabella has undertaken extensive education and training for acting on stage and screen, enabling her to collaborate with many talented artists. She enjoys portraying multi-faceted, dimensional and complex characters, thoroughly admiring all stages of production in the creation of performative storytelling.

Since the beginning of her involvement in the creative industry, Isabella has made it her mission to represent a figure on film and television for whom young girls can identify with. She aims to move mountains for those young people who do not see themselves on the screen.