

Toshiro is a Japanese-Australian screen and voice actor who prides himself on the positive energy he brings to any environment.

A passionate storyteller who finds fulfillment in challenging himself through creative and collaborative endeavors while embracing his quirks that allow ideas and visions that are unique to him.

Born in Nagoya Japan, and moving to Australia at age 10, Toshiro understands the importance of multicultural voices in creative spaces. He had the opportunity to explore this theme when starring in 'Yakuyu', produced through AFTRS, set for release this year (2026).

Toshiro has recently created his own short film 'The Scent Of Us' for Tropfest which he wrote, produced, directed, and (under a pseudonym) edited. All of which was a brand new experience for him.

The film was shortlisted and will be available through Tropfest starting at the beginning of April.
