Madison Daniel screen credits include five years as Josie Lamb on Neighbours and Rachel in ABC's Seven Types of Ambiguity alongside Hugo Weaving. She most recently wrote, produced, directed, starred in, and scored her short film STITCH (funded by the Peninsula Arts Fund), now completing post-production ahead of festival release.

Madison Daniel is known for emotional depth, sharp comedic timing, and fearless vulnerability - drawn to complex, flawed, emotionally explosive characters.

Accents: Australian (native), General American, British RP, German, Swedish

Special Skills: Singing, songwriting, guitar, improvisation, producing, directing

Passports: Australian
IMDb: https://www.imdb.com/name/nm4977874/
Instagram: @madsdee | TikTok: @shesmadlucy