

Lyndon Cantwell Acting Bio:

Lyndon Cantwell is a Melbourne based actor and has featured in Channel 7's Sunday Night documentary The Blythe Star as Michael Doleman, and the ABC series Superwog as a doctor. Recently he has appeared in the award-winning web series Walking Shadows, the theatre production Hyacinth, and is in post-production for a short film that he co-directed and acted in called Alone.

He is a graduate of the Howard Fine Acting Studio in Australia and has trained directly with Howard Fine, Sally McLean, Phillip Hayden and the Australian Shakespeare Company.

Growing up in Queensland, he went to school in Tasmania, then went to University in Melbourne to get a double degree in Aerospace Engineering and Accounting whilst pursuing acting. Lyndon has a love for everything and anything to do with film and television, he is also a singer-songwriter and has a keen interest in aviation.