

Laura Stejskal Bio

Meet Laura Stejskal, a versatile and accomplished actress who has made her mark in both the Australian and American film and television industries. She is known for roles in Deadly Women, The Lost World and Sea Patrol to name a few. Her latest role as the flirtatious 'Caroline' in the award winning teen drama Heartbreak High, came out in April 2024 on Netflix.

With a career that spans various mediums, Laura has also become a familiar face in the commercial realm, lending her image and voice to various companies. Her captivating presence has turned heads, making her a go-to choice for brands looking to connect with their audience. Some of these include Real Insurance, St. George Bank, Allphones, BT Super and many others.

In recent years, Laura has expanded her creative horizons by venturing into writing and producing her own short films. Among them, "Swipe For Love" stands out as a testament to her storytelling and filmmaking skills. This micro romantic comedy short not only won the coveted title of Best Micro Romantic Comedy Short at the 2023 Portland Comedy Film Festival but also received a nomination for Best International Director.

Alongside her success in the world of entertainment, Laura also excels in the corporate acting realm. Her consistent work in this domain showcases her adaptability and professionalism, further establishing her as a reliable and versatile performer.

Born to an Indonesian mother and Australian father, her exotic looks have helped her to play a variety of roles hailing from various ethnic backgrounds from Eurasian/Asian, Mediterranean to Caucasian. With a love for keeping fit, Laura enjoys doing this by playing tennis, swimming, running and walking her dog.
