

BIOGRAPHY

Ethan Lwin is an Actor and Musician based in Brisbane. He grew up in the regional town of Goondiwindi. Involved in the arts from a young age, Ethan performed in local Eisteddfods and Musicals. Much of his high school years were spent with his Rock Band 'Sixth Sense', who were convinced their unique sound would rocket them to the top. At 17, Ethan enrolled in a Law degree at the University of Queensland. He enjoyed the prestige the title 'Law Student' carried but ultimately remained artistically unfulfilled. Armed with four years of student theatre and a plethora of failed Drama school auditions Ethan dropped out of Law School and joined QUT's Bachelor of Fine Arts (Acting) program.

At QUT, Ethan performed as M in 'Lungs', dir. Michael Fitcher; Clarence/Catesby in 'Richard III', dir. Travis Dowling; Mr Erbage in 'The Season at Sasaparilla', dir. Jason Klarwein; Hans Albert/Freddy/Greg in 'Incognito', dir. Dan Evans; Tuzenbach in 'Three Sisters', dir. Dan Evans; and David in 'Love and Money', dir. Kat Henry.

Since graduating Ethan has performed professionally with Queensland Theatre in their Play Club reading of 'Toy Symphony'; dir. Daniel Evans, and the Young Playwright Award reading of 'Love, War, and Other Stuff', dir. Caroline Dunphy. Ethan made his Television debut at the end of 2020 in NBC's 'Young Rock'.
