
MARQUEE

PATRICK JHANUR

Patrick is a 2015 graduate of QUT. Upon graduating Patrick performed in Echelon Productions national tour of STEMania and in 2017 he joined La Boite's production Single Asian Female, to be directed by Claire Christian, and has since toured with the production for their Sydney Season at Belvoir St. Theatre and their Melbourne Season at the Arts Centre. Most recently, Patrick made his Sydney Theatre Company debut in the critically acclaimed play, Banging Denmark, as Toby.

Prior to studying at QUT, Patrick performed in multiple Singaporean children's TV shows and guest starred in Sea Patrol Series 2 under the direction of Geoff Bennett and Ian Barry.

Patrick's QUT theatre credits include; Joe in Survival, Yasha in The Cherry Orchard, Apothecary and Montague in Romeo and Juliet; and in his graduating year, Bert Jefferson in The Man Who Came to Dinner directed by Jennifer Flowers, Sazonov and Shevyrev in The Coast of Utopia: Voyage directed by David Bell and Jamie in The Hot L Baltimore directed by Robert Benedetti.

Patrick's work includes the role of Sweetpea in the ABC miniseries Riot, as well as short films Cane and Joy Boy. Patrick's most recent work includes his role as Ra in the ABC series The Checkout; his role as Ozzie in 7TWO series Drop Dead Weird: Series 2. Patrick can next be seen as Dale in ABCTV's upcoming series Diary of an Uber Driver, as well as the short film Thrush.