Born in a small village of South of France from a French father and a Tunisian mother, Cassandre has always been inspired by what surrounded her. She started studying the arts at school and outside of school at a very young age going from music to singing, dancing, painting and theatre where she was part of a theatre troop at 11 years old until she moved to Dominican Republic at 15 years old for a year and a half where she learnt to speak Spanish fluently and also started a modelling career.

Cassandre graduated High School and obtained her Baccalaureat (French equivalent of HSC) and then pursued an Architecture and Design Degree at the University of Nimes in the South of France until she decided to go and explore Australia on her own in 2013.

She attended the Sydney Theatre School for the 1 Year Part Time Foundation Course in 2017, followed different online masterclasses, studied a 10 weeks Full time course with Kyle Rowling at the Action Acting Academy in early 2019 and a 2 weeks Full time course in 2021 where she graduated by becoming an advanced stage combatant.
Very dedicated to her craft, Cassandre is still training with Kyle to this day but is also training with the Sydney Acting Studio attending several classes a week taught by Hunter McMahon, Stephen Hunter, Aaron Glenane, Louise Lee Mei, Adam Dunn, Grace Naoum and Pip Edwards.

In 2020, she has worked as a featured extra for Destination NSW, Deadly Women, Home & Away but most importantly for the well expected Marvel Production of Shang Shi and the legend of the Ten Rings shot at the Sydney Fox Studio.
She was also a part of the ensemble for the Waking Darkly theatre production playing at the Sydney Acting Studio.

As a very adventurous young woman, Cassandre loves and excels in diverse sports including rock climbing, yoga, skiing and boxing among others.
In 2014 and 2017 she got selected to be a contestant of the French Survivor and French Survivor All Stars and came close to winning in both seasons showing her physical and mental skills every time.
