

KRISTINE MURRAY-XENIDIS

Kristine is a passionate Greek-Australian performer from Melbourne, who discovered her love for the creative arts at a young age. She has recently graduated from Federation University's Bachelor of Performing Arts and is eager to continue pursuing what she loves most. At the Arts Academy, she had the pleasure to perform in Twelfth Night (Malvolio) directed by Angela Campbell; Momo (Professor Hora/PA) by Michael Ende, adapted by Anthony Crowley, music by Rick Chew, Exquisite Corpse 3.0: SevENDS Calling directed by Scott Middleton, a collaborative self-devised work and MOTOR-MOUTH LOVES SUCK-FACE: An Apocalyptic Musical as the lead (Blasko Tupper), written and directed by Anthony Crowley. Most recently, she performed in The Flood (Lily), a multifaceted play written and directed by Tara Kennedy.
