

JOSH ANDERSON

Josh grew up in Sydney and was raised by a village of dancers, actors and singers. He was involved in theatre at school, played saxophone, sang and had his first taste of the performance industry in his early teens, when he appeared in a supporting role in the 2003 film, Darkness Falls. He is a graduate of NIDA's prestigious Acting degree program.

As a child, Josh's performance career grew and he appeared in guest roles in Farscape, Home and Away and various children's series. At the age of 12, he began voiceover work for Nickelodeon, moving on to forge a healthy career regularly voicing for TVCs. After graduating from high school, Josh enrolled in the CAP21 program at the Tisch School of the Arts in New York City.

Since graduating NIDA, Josh has been forging his acting career in Australia, appearing in TV Series such as Wonderland, Carlotta, and again on Home & Away.

On stage Josh has performed in Belvoir Theatre's This Heaven directed by Lee Lewis, Critical Stages' acclaimed touring production of the Australian classic, The Removalists and as Anthony in Stephen Sondheim's Sweeney Todd for New Theatre and Mad March Hare's production of Philip Ridley's Shivered.

Josh starred in both Belleville (2016) and Bengal Tiger At The Baghdad Zoo (2017) for The Old Fitz Theatre.
