Biography

Noah Skape is an award winning Perth-based performer and writer working across film, theatre, opera, and experimental work. Screen credits include The Furnace with David Wenham, He Ain't Heavy with Leila George and Sam Corlett, and Egyptian Blue with Alexandra Nell, as well as lead roles in the short films I'm Not Hurting You and Friendly.

Stage work includes Human Entertainment (WINNER MARTIN SIMS AWARD, FRINGEWORLD 2026), Little Shop of Horrors (WINNER BEST SUPPORTING ACTOR IN A MUSICAL, BROADWAY WORLD 2025), Saturday Night Fever (DJ Monty), The Wedding Singer (George), and appearances with West Australian Opera in Madama Butterfly and Il Trovatore. He toured with Perth Symphony Orchestra as a narrator and continues to create original fringe productions, most recently the large-scale experimental works "Specimens" & "HYDE" for Strange Fest.

Noah is also active as a musician, developing theatrical punk shows and receiving multiple Broadway World Award & WAM Award nominations for his contributions to music and performance.
