

Danah Collins

Danah is an emerging actress and musician, originally from the North-West Coast of Tasmania. She relocated to Victoria in 2021 to study her Bachelor of Performing Arts at Federation University Arts Academy and is set to graduate in October 2023. Growing up, Danah immersed herself in the arts and has gained experience in theatre, musical theatre, screen acting, as a musician and musical comedian. Danah was recently named a Resident Artist at Federation University and awarded Runner-Up in Piano Bar's Got Talent for her original musical comedy. She is passionate about creating, particularly new Australian works, and contributed several pieces of text and songs in Exquisite Corpse 3.0, a 2023 devised work with her Arts Academy cohort and directors Kellie Tori and Scott Middleton. Additionally, during her studies Danah has worked with directors Ross Hall in Mary Shelley's Frankenstein and in the world premiere of new musical Momo, Danielle Carter in Patrick White's The Season of Sarsaparilla and Kim Durban in Edith Littleton's Warp and Woof. She has also begun to explore screen acting and is excited to continue developing her skills in this area. Outside of the arts, Danah has extensive training in Judo and enjoys sports including netball, tennis, hiking and swimming.
