

Since childhood Jared has had an innate passion for the arts, but it wasn't till the age of thirty Jared started pursuing acting full time. Jared studied under esteemed Perth directors such as Nicole Moerland, Mahesh Jadu and Hollywood casting director, Greg Apps

Jared had only just started acting when he was cast as the lead in the theatre production of "The Wedding Singer" This seemed to just be the beginning, as since then Jared was cast in many other productions, tv commercials, corporate videos and short films usually as a main character.

Jared's exotic appearance allows for him to be cast as many different nationalities and he can produce the dialects or accents to match the roles requirements, as he is a very convincing impressionist.

Jared is also a very talented singer and guitarist as he started learning and performing guitar from the age of eight. Currently playing four to five gigs per week, and utilizing a loop pedal, Jared has become a popular and sought-after entertainer around Perth.

Jared has his sights set on bigger and better things as he was also fortunate enough to be cast by an A list Hollywood celebrity, for a production which a current NDA prevents him from disclosing at this point in time.

Needless to say, Jared excels with every opportunity given, and has cultivated a such positive reputation around Western Australia, as a down to earth, easily coachable actor, that he is often requested by name.

Jared's talents extend beyond just acting and performing as he also writes and directs for his own comedy channel on YouTube and Facebook.
