AMIN MAJID

ABOUT

Amin Majid is a performer shaped by experience as much as craft. With a background rooted in the discipline of the military and the unpredictability of the maritime world, he brings a quiet intensity and authenticity to every role he takes on. His journey is not conventional, and that is precisely what sets him apart.

Fluent in English, Bahasa Indonesia, and Bahasa Melayu, Amin moves effortlessly between cultures, embodying characters with nuance and emotional depth. His early beginnings in theatre sparked a lifelong passion for performance—one that continues to evolve through rigorous training with respected industry professionals, including Oscar-nominated acting coaches.

Known for his discipline, professionalism, and adaptability, Amin approaches each project with focus and a commitment to delivering strong, grounded performances across film, television, and commercial work.

Amin is not just acting; he is telling stories that feel lived-in, honest, and human.

FILM & TELEVISION

Amin has built extensive experience across major international film and television productions, including Voltron, Mortal Kombat 2, Godzilla x Kong: The New Empire, Balls Up!, How To Make Gravy, The Mark, Monarch: Legacy of Monsters Season 2, Boy Swallows Universe, La Brea Season 3, Troppo Season 2, Nautilus, Rock Island Mysteries, and White Collar. Working alongside acclaimed directors, established casts, and leading international studios, he has developed a strong understanding of on-set professionalism, screen continuity, camera awareness, and performance adaptability.

Known for portraying a diverse range of characters—from military personnel and authority figures to professionals and everyday individuals—Amin brings authenticity, credibility, and a natural screen presence to every role. His experience across drama, action, adventure, and character-driven productions has equipped him with the versatility to seamlessly adapt to different genres, production scales, and creative environments.

TRAINING

Committed to continual growth, Amin regularly undertakes advanced screen acting, voice, improvisation, movement, and character development training with some of Australia's most respected acting coaches and industry professionals. As his career continues to evolve, Amin remains dedicated to bringing compelling stories to life through performances that resonate with audiences both in Australia and internationally.

COMMERCIAL & MODELLING

Alongside his acting career, Amin has established himself as a highly sought-after commercial performer. He has been featured in a number of national and international campaigns for leading brands including NAB, SportsBet, Bolton Clarke, Dettol, and Canadian Club, to name a few.

His approachable nature, strong camera awareness, and ability to connect naturally with audiences make him particularly effective in family, lifestyle, corporate, and community-focused productions.

His multicultural appearance, adaptability, and professionalism have made him a valuable asset for creative agencies and international brands seeking authentic representation.

HIGHLIGHTS

From international feature films to independent web series, Amin has been making waves in front of the camera since 2022.

Recently, Amin wrapped filming on the web series Blue Rockpools where he played Parole Officer George.

Prior to that, Amin was kept busy with the TV Series Nautilus, where he regularly worked as a body double and stand in, and in multiple featured extra roles. His TV credits also span the likes of Boy Swallows Universe, La Brea, and White Collar to name a few.

Amin has also modelled for well-known brands such as Dettol and Bolton Clarke, as well as starring in commercials for companies including TikTok and NAB.

Amin recently graduated from The Warehouse Workshop Acting Studio's 30-week showreel course.
