Kim is a highly versatile actor, musician and performer who sets herself apart with her talent, drive and all-round professionalism. At Federation University Arts Academy, a highlight for her was performing in the Australian premiere of Made in Dagenham (Barbara Castle) directed by Anthony Crowley. In 2023, Kim toured Love's Labour's Lost to the Prague Fringe Festival with the Australian Shakespeare Company playing Don Adriano de Armado – 'The Fantastical Spaniard'. She also participated in the development of and performed in Alex and Jordan and the Null Hypothesis a new Australian Musical Comedy about conspiracy theories written by Tim Francis, where she played the role of Morgan, a 'lizard lady in human disguise with views of world domination.' Kim continues to develop her commitment to the serious side of comedy in her work. A registered teacher, Kim also has unrivalled energy and enthusiasm performing for children.
