To whom it may concern,

My love of acting developed at an early age. I was on the stage as soon as I could walk. I starred in films as a young child when I was in primary school and have continued throughout high school. I have taken part in community theatre musicals and plays often taking a lead role or assisting in producing productions to gain more experience and knowledge. I have performed at the Gold Coast Little Theatre, Hota performing arts centre, phoenix theatre and NAPA in both musicals and plays.

Along with my theatre work, I have worked in films such as Nine Perfect Strangers, Joe Exotic (the movie and series), Elvis, Godzilla vs. Kong and the Rock. I am privileged to have work with Griffith Film School in many of their final year projects, some of which have won awards for best student film of the year. Some of the final year projects I have been part of have been NINO, The Beach, Silk, Living like Luna, The Road, Cowboy LA and A whisper in Time. Nino has recently won the best film at the Queensland film festival.

I have also played key parts in plays and films that didn't include a starring role. Side and complementary characters are often just as important to the execution of a story as the main character is. They often bring the problem and/or the climax. They can aid the hero in reaching a goal. Oftentimes, the ultimate success or failure of a project depends on the supporting cast, and I know this intimately.

Sincerely,

Chloe K O'Connor
