Barbara Bingham

Barbara Bingham is a dual American–Australian actor, writer, and producer based in Sydney, with a career spanning five decades across the US and Australia.

Born in Hawaii, she began her screen career on Hawaii Five-O before moving to Los Angeles to train, going on to work extensively across film, television, and stage, including Friday the 13th Part VIII: Jason Takes Manhattan, Knots Landing, and The Colbys.

Barbara stars in and executive produces the sci-fi feature Resonance, delivering dual lead performances across two timelines. The film celebrated its world premiere as the Opening Night feature of the 2026 Sydney Science Fiction Film Festival, where it won the Ron Cobb Award for Best Film.

In recent years, Barbara has expanded into writing and producing, co-creating the award-winning psychological thriller Over the Edge, in which she also stars. Following its international festival success, Screen Australia awarded development funding for the feature adaptation. Barbara and director Enzo Tedeschi have since completed the feature screenplay, with production planned for 2027.
