

Helen Vogiatzakis Bio

An adaptable, practiced actor whose passion remains at the forefront of her acting. Helen's strengths are in character development and improvisation, and her quirky humour, bright demeanour and professional commitment make her easy to work with. Helen has displayed skill in playing many different types of characters and she continues to explore the art in all levels of her acting career. Helen is motivated to achieve the desired outcomes being sought by directors, and has a screen presence that captures attention with ease and an energy that commands attention.

Helen has been a part of the Perth acting industry for over 20 years. She has a great passion for the craft which is evident in her long-standing involvement in the industry. Helen has trained at Edith Cowan University and completed a Bachelor of the Arts. She has then gone on to participate in various other specialised training, including many Masterclasses with industry professionals, voice and physical workshops, continuing to hone her craft. Her professional experience includes various films, commercial, theatre and video presentations. More recently Helen has developed her skills as an influencer and has created an impressive brand that continues to grow in followers daily.