

Katie Coy, an American actress from Colorado, moved to Australia in 2014. She trained and acted in Colorado and New York, enhancing her versatile skills. Now in Melbourne, Katie has a dynamic career in acting and broadcast presenting, with a distinctive presence at 178 cm tall, red hair, and green eyes.

She has received extensive training from respected institutions such as Film & TV International, TAFTA, Brave Studios, and NIDA, and has earned recognition for her dedication to her work. Known for her ability to take direction exceptionally well, Katie has recently been praised by Producer Vincent Zimbardi, Director Steve Callen, and clients for her work on Realtor.com for her professionalism, adaptability, and strong performances.

Katie's on-screen credits include bit roles in films such as 2:22 and The Scrying, and theatrical performances including Relative Values, Stage Door, and Clue. She has also appeared in high-profile commercials for brands like Realtor.com (US release), Virgin Australia, and Priceline, and has taken on presenting roles for WorkVivo, Brightflow.AI, and Telstra Cloud.

Katie works as a Business Analyst in technology and also has a background in fashion, account management, and event management.

Represented by Replete Talent Management, Katie is available for work across Australia and internationally. Her extensive experience, exceptional adaptability, and commitment to her craft make her a standout talent in any production.