

Edan Lacey BIO

Edan Lacey is an award winning actor, improviser and comedian. A graduate of the New Actors Workshop in New York and Master of Screen Arts in directing from the Australian Film Television and Radio School (AFTRS), he is co-founder and resident director at Improv Theatre Sydney and teaches improvisation for the National Institute of Dramatic Art. Edan is a two-time National Theatresports champion, and has written, performed and directed shows at The Adelaide Fringe, Sydney Fringe and Melbourne International Comedy Festivals, The Upright Citizen's Brigade in New York City and ImprovOlympic in Chicago. Edan is a stalwart of Australian comedy, Performing regularly at the Giant Dwarf Theatre and appearing in Aaron Chen Tonight, Tonightly with Tom Ballard and Growing Up Gracefully on the ABC, The Feed on SBS and Orange is the New Brown on Channel 7. He can be seen every week live on the internet on twitch.tv and heard on The Dragon Friends Podcast.