

Victor Parascos

Biography

Victor Parascos is an Australian born actor of Greek heritage. His Father immigrated to Australia from a village of Sparta, Greece and his mother from a small town near Cairo, Egypt. With strong connections to his cultural background, Victor is also fluent in the Greek language.

Victor's journey in the entertainment industry began as a teenager while studying architecture at university, where he began modelling throughout Australia and Southeast Asia and was cast in leading roles for numerous national and international TV commercials and advertising campaigns. Soon after, Victor realized his true artistic passion was in performance and redirected his studies towards drama and voice to forge a career as an actor.

Throughout his career, Victor has worked with many esteemed acting and dialect coaches including Ivana Chubbuck, Andrew Jack and Alan Edwards. Victor also holds a Post Graduate Degree in Social Science.

Trained as a stunt performer, specializing in film and stage combat, Victor is also a 4th Dan Master Instructor of Tae Kwon Do. These additional skills add another layer of versatility and physicality to his scene work.

Victor is known for leading roles in 'Beauty and The Beast - A Dark Tale' alongside Estella Warren, and 'Undertow' with Dina Meyer. His long list of film & TV industry credits includes House of Wax, The Lost World, Beastmaster and Mako Mermaids.

Victor was recently cast in a supporting role in the romantic comedy 'When Love Springs' released in 2023 on the Hallmark Channel.
