

Martin Cohen

Martin Cohen worked for many years in the corporate sector, however in 2019 he resigned from office life to shift his focus towards his lifelong passion for acting. He graduated from Screenwise Australia in 2019 and in addition, has also completed several courses at NIDA, Improv Theatre Sydney, and AMAW. His life in acting now includes working on innumerable productions including several TV series, short films, feature films, web series, opera productions and theatre.

Martin has spent his life in pursuit of creative outlets, and has a Bachelor of Music degree from the Sydney Conservatorium of Music and is the principal flutist and longest serving President of the Woollahra Philharmonic Orchestra.

In 2019 Martin Cohen was acknowledged with a citizen award for his contribution to arts and culture by the Woollahra Council.

Anything you do acting or otherwise I will shout to the rafters in support of you. You are an incredible person and so talented.

- Denise Roberts, Director & CEO, SCREENWISE AUSTRALIA 2020

You have been such a delight to cast and to work with on Dark Horse production. The role of Mr Roberts was not an easy one to take on, and you did so exceptionally. Your sense of professionalism and kind nature carried through from the audition right to wrap and as filmmakers, these are qualities we all really appreciate. Your dedication to emotionally understand Mr Roberts speaks volumes on your ability, thank you for taking yourself to that space. It was an amazing performance and will be a defining moment in the film. You are a talented actor and thank you again for your enthusiasm and the time you dedicated to this project.

- Crystal Whiteley, Casting Director – DARK HORSE 2020

A genuinely nice guy who is a pleasure to work with. Brings a passion to a script that sees beyond all the incidental rubbish and gets excited about the character themselves.

- Nick Payne, Director – LIFEBOAT 2021

Very professional actor. Martin has a wealth of experience and it showed on the day of the shoot. We would highly recommend him.

- Richard Tauheluhelu, Producer - ROSE, 2021
