

Biography - Steve Gray

Steve Gray born 23 January 1963, Melbourne Australia.

Relatively new to acting Steve has enjoyed every opportunity offered to him. His first taste at acting was in a television commercial which he enjoyed so much he enrolled and successfully completed a Diploma in Acting & Drama. Since then Steve has appeared in ABC's Dr Blake Murder Mysteries, Utopia and Comedy Channel's Open Slather. He has also appeared in a number of television and social media commercials as well as many and varied media photo shoots.

Steve is semi retired after selling a successful business of 35 years in the automotive and transport industries where he remains highly regarded and still consulted for his wealth of expertise and professionalism. Married for more than 36 years family is very important to him with 2 children and 5 very busy grandchildren. He enjoys going to the theatre and cinema, following the AFL in particular North Melbourne, socialising with family and friends. Steve keeps pretty fit and active with gym, swimming and walk/running. He has travelled extensively throughout the world and is always in search of a new destination to explore on his next adventure.
