To Whom It May Concern,

My background is in live events, radio broadcasting, comedy and voiceover. I'm also dramatically trained and have television experience.

I'm currently looking to get into more television-based work: TVC's, comedy, drama.

I have been a broadcaster at RRR 102.7FM for six years, performed voiceover work and am co-host of the popular 'Slam Dunk Party' podcast / radio show.

I'm also an experienced Master of Ceremonies, having hosted numerous corporate awards nights and other social engagements.

In 2011, I co-wrote and starred in a community television comedy series, 'CookieTime TV', which is still being aired twice a week on Sydney's TVS (Digital Channel 44).

Having completed both a radio production course and a voiceover / narration course, I'm qualified to operate panels and produce radio shows and along with my comedy background and voiceover experience, I'm a diverse character voice actor and comedic talent and comfortable in front of a camera or a microphone.

Outside of work, my involvement in Melbourne's music scene as a singer/songwriter, along with my broadcasting experience on RRR FM, keeps me at the forefront of what's happening in the Australian music industry. I've also got a solid history in concert promotion, music festivals and other self and government funded ventures.

Please see the following page for my training and experience.

Very much looking forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,

Conor Farrell
