
Caitlin Berwick

Caitlin Berwick is an actress, vocalist and writer. Caitlin has performed in new Australian works including 'Ned Kelly, My Love' by Xavier Brouwer, and 'Jeannette' in 'RIOT' by Thomas Ian Doyle - where she also composed the score. Catching the musical bug, Caitlin went on to compose original music and re-arrange torch song classic hits for the first chapter in Harvey Fierstein's Torch Song Trilogy - 'International Stud'. Having relocated to Hobart, she has understudied in Jean Genet's 'The Maids' with Marta Dusseldorp and Essie Davis, 'Women of Troy' with Marta Dusseldorp, Sarah Peirse and a plethora of Tasmanian talent, before performing in the world premiere of First Dog on the Moon's environmentally friendly production of The Carbon Neutral Adventures of The Indefatigable Enviroteens.
