

Emma De Maria is a multifaceted artist working across performance and production in theatre, film, and television. A music theatre graduate of the University of Adelaide x GWB Studios (2023), she trains and works as a storyteller –actor, dancer, and singer. Performance credits include the original cast of Bluey’s World in Brisbane, supernumerary role in GWB Entertainment’s A Christmas Carol in Melbourne, and appearances at Adelaide Fringe, Adelaide Cabaret Festival, and regular performances at Bavarde.

Emma is the founder of Lost Words Collection, an independent film and theatre company dedicated to reimagining artistic legacies. Focussed on producing, directing, and writing, she has previously performed in the Adelaide Festival Centre’s Class of Cabaret and received 5-star reviews for her most recent cabaret Sinatra e De Maria.

As an educator, Emma works with students of all ages across schools and studios in South Australia. Her experience includes teaching Diploma students at GWB Studios, Winter Intensive for State Theatre Company South Australia as well as working with Cool Beans Theatre, Theatre Bugs, Trinity College, and Cheryl Bradley’s Dance Studios.

Additionally, Emma works in arts administration and production coordination, having supported companies such as Bring Me Magic, GWB Entertainment and currently, Ben Francis Entertainment.