SONGWRITER

Lawrence Ola is a Sydney based Actor, Voice Artist and Songwriter, best known for his comedic commercial work for Sleeping Duck, Kennards Hire and Step One. Prior to his creative pursuits, he worked in manufacturing for over 8 years before deciding to switch careers.

His screen credits include feature films This Little Love of Mine (Jaggi Entertainment) and Residence (Breeding Ground Productions), as well as TV shows Upright, The Messenger (Lingo Pictures), Wellmania (Freemantle Australia) and Cloudy River (Unko)

Lawrence also appeared in the shorts The Blow Up and Rudy (Like the Pepper Films) which were part of the Sydney Underground Festival '23, The New Boyfriend (Valiant Star Productions) which was a finalist for the Best Australian Short Film competition '24 and Social Distance (Conti Bros), which won 3rd place in the comedy category for the My RØDE Reel competition in 2020.

Having expanded his craft into voice work, he made his voice acting debut in ABC's Reef School. Lawrence also writes and records as an independent songwriter, releasing material under the name Bohifale. His single, Kind Enough to Wait, was a finalist in the Made in the West Film Fest '21. He has also contributed to songwriting for several TVC jingles airing both locally and overseas.

At the moment, Lawrence is helping to produce the drama/comedy miniseries Falling in Slow Motion (Sarah Dinsey Film Productions), and will appear in a lead role for Newcastle drama Strangers in a Car Park (McBrat Motion Pictures), set for release in the new year.

He is currently in South Australia shooting a drama produced by Endemol Shine which will air in 2025.
