

JUSTINA WARD

Justina Ward graduated from the prestigious BFA Acting program at the Western Australian Academy of Performing Arts (WAAPA).

Justina was most recently seen as Anne Frank in The Diary of Anne Frank for New Theatre.

Justina has been performing since early childhood and throughout high school was involved in productions including playing Velma in Chicago and in Wayne Scott Kermond's Candy Man before entering the Adelaide College of the Arts (ACARTS).

During her time at WAAPA Justina shone in Martin McDonagh's The Cripple of Inishmaan and in Noel Coward's Easy Virtue. The Graduating Company's self-devised piece The Swell Party (dir. Chris Edmund) toured to Dublin in 2013.

Justina is a versatile singer and musician and is able to play guitar, piano, violin and cello.
