Biography

Claire Appleby's confidence, energy and talent have drawn her to the Arts from day one. With extensive training in singing, dancing, and acting since the age of four, the title of 'Triple Threat' is well deserved.

Claire portrayed control freak Courtney Jones in the short film "The Volunteer" (2017), earning her 'Best Actress' in The Monkey Bread Tree Film Awards; capturing their hearts by bringing to life 'a wonderfully annoying persona' (TMBT).

Despite her success on screen, Claire's passion lies in theatre. Earlier this year she starred as Viola in "12 Inch Night", an adaptation of "Twelfth Night" for Mardi Gras 2017 where she performed to sold out audiences for its entire run.

Claire's drive, determination and strong skillset have enabled her to seamlessly work within a multitude of mediums setting her up for a long and diverse career in the arts.
