Emily Paxevanos is a young Australian Actor and Model based in Queensland. She trained in theatre at the University of the Sunshine Coast, then went on to study acting for screen through masterclasses with industry professionals. She has since had lead roles in short films, and worked with multi-award winning directors across South East Queensland. She is best known for her lead role in a Sunshine Coast Showdown Festival short, which was awarded the 'Fun is Good Bill Murray Comedic Shorts Award' (best comedy) at the Twin Cities Film Festival. This highlights her subtle, and comedic instincts as an actor, and her ability to captivate international audiences. When not acting, she's either at the beach with her dog, at a cafe having a coffee with friends or adding films to her watched list.
