

JODI ANASTA

Jodi Gordon's career started at the age of 13 after winning a modelling competition landed her a contract with one of Australia's most respected and renowned modelling agencies, Vivien's. Modelling led her overseas where she secured work in editorial, advertorial & commercial campaigns in both Europe and Asia. In 2003 Jodi relocated to Europe, living between London and Milan where her success in the modelling arena continued.

Upon her return to Australia in 2004, Jodi successfully auditioned for the role of Martha Mackenzie in the popular television programme Home & Away. She spent 4 years in the role; became a household name; and was awarded with a TV Week Logie for 'Most Popular New Female Talent' in 2006. Proving that acting isn't her only forte, Jodi took to the dance floor on Channel Sevens "Dancing with the Stars" in 2008. In 2009 Jodi received her second TV Week Logie nomination for 'Most Popular Actress' further cementing her popularity among Australian audiences. 2011 saw the most exciting period of Jodi's acting career to date with the release of the critically acclaimed Australian feature film 'The Cup'. Based on the racehorse, Media Puzzle's 2002 Melbourne Cup win where Jodi plays the lead role of Trish Oliver, Damien Oliver's partner. In 2012, Jodi appeared in her second Australian feature film 'Any Questions for Ben', a Working Dog Production (producers of The Castle & The Dish). Jodi also appeared in the top rating miniseries "Blood Brothers", as well as "Underbelly Badness"(2012), both of which aired on Channel Nine. In 2013 and 2014 Jodi featured in the ABC's TV series CAMP and HIDING.

Jodi, a true style influencer, has fronted campaigns and acted as an ambassador for leading Australian Fashion brands including Toni Bianco shoes, Crystelle Lingerie, Nike's "She Runs The Night" in 2013, Myer exclusive bran Piper, Diva Accessories and Australian owned natural skincare range Puretopia. Jodi is currently a brand ambassador for Myer, Australia's largest department store, representing them on the fashion front across PR, advertising and events.
