

SOPHIE JERMYN

M A N A G E M E N T

JEMMA R. WILKS

Jemma is an Australian actress of Filipino, Spanish and Indian descent. She began her professional career early as a dancer in an independent and professional dance ensemble, 78 Tourette, which later became Dance Camp.

Her theatre credits include 'The Cockroach Opera' (Belvoir St Theatre), 'Sydney Stories' (STC), and 'The Information' (Belvoir St Theatre); as well as musical theatre productions 'South Pacific' (Gordon Frost) – in which she played the lead role 'Liat' - and 'Chess - The Musical'.

The tv goers were first introduced to Jemma in the tv mini-series debut, "Singapore Sling", playing the lead opposite John Waters - later it gained international viewing through HBO.

Other Screen credits include US series 'Code 111-4', just to name a few of the Australian productions 'All Saints', 'East West 101', 'Doctor Doctor', 'Sea Patrol', 'Big Sky' and 'Police Rescue'. Other tv credits can be viewed on her resume.

Feature film credit includes The Wannabes, written and directed by Nick Giannopolous.

Jemma has starred alongside Ben Mendelson in SBS produced short film 'Sell-ebrity Sell-ection'.

Proudly representing the Asian community, Jemma was chosen as the MC for the Inaugural cross-cultural event "OzAsia Festival" in Adelaide.

Jemma has a passion for storytelling and has embarked on studying the art of writing.