Originally from Perth, Leif Taylor (They/Them) is a performing artist based in Ballarat, Victoria. Growing up in an artistic family, they began dance lessons at the age of three and learnt the violin from the age of four. Their formal training began in 2016 at the Western Australian Academy of Performing Arts where they studied Classical Voice. During their time at the academy, they performed various operas, cabaret shows, and vocal recitals. They were employed as choreographer for the WAAPA Classical Vocal student's cabaret From Music Hall to Cabaret directed by Mary King in 2018, in which they also featured as a dancer and vocalist. They have performed in various productions and events across Perth and was an original member of The Magic Coat Theatre production's show, Secrets of the Magic Coat in 2022. In 2023, they moved to Ballarat attending Federation University to further their training in musical theatre and acting. While at the academy they performed in musicals The White Rose, Little Women and Pippin.
