

ALEX DONNELLY – Artist Bio

Originally from Hobart, Tasmania, Alex is a passionate actor and performer based in Melbourne. While studying at the Victorian College of the Arts he has performed such roles as Peter Pan in 'Peter Pan' (dir. Ben Schostakowski), Henry in 'The Skin of Our Teeth' (dir. Dean Bryant), Queen Margaret in 'Richard III' (dir. Budi Miller) Menelaus in 'The Greeks' (dir. Melanie Beddie), and Treplev in 'The Seagull' (dir. Budi Miller), a performance which was taken to represent VCA at The Asia Pacific Bond Conference in Shanghai. Alex also participated in an intensive clown, mask and traditional Balinese arts workshop in Bali coordinated by Budi Miller. He also has a background in singing and musical theatre, being nominated for a Tasmanian Theatre Award in 2017 for his work in 'Little Shop of Horrors' (dir. Robert Manion).