

EMILY PAXEVANOS

ACTOR

EMILY

Emily Paxevanos is a young Australian award-winning Actor and Model based in Queensland. She completed a bachelor of Theatre and Performance in 2022, then went on to study acting for screen through masterclasses with industry professionals. Since graduating she has worked on a number of projects across South East Queensland, and has been internationally recognised for her work. Her first role was the lead in a local independent feature film, which received many nominations at film festivals across the world. She is known for her supporting role in the Sunshine Coast Screen Collective short film, which was awarded the 'Fun is Good' (best comedy) award by Bill Murray himself at the Twin Cities Film Festival. This showcases her range as an actor, and the depth, authenticity, and wit she brings to each role.

CLICK HERE >

FILM & TV

CLICK HERE >

Emily's first role was the lead in an independent short drama 'The Midnight Sower' about a teenager finding meaning in her suffering. As a recent graduate, she found this an opportunity to showcase her emotional range and ability to act with intelligence and subtly.

She earned a lot of recognition for this role, and went on to be cast in a number of projects; film, tv and commercial. She's also been training extensively over the past 3 years through acting classes and workshops with industry professionals such as Thea McLeod, Stevie Ray, and more.

SKILLS

Emily is a multitalented actor with skills in many different areas, all of which help to inform her performances. In between jobs and auditions, you'll find her;

- Modelling
- Working behind the scenes a crew member
- In the theatre

CLICK HERE >

Emily has worked on a number of projects with award-winning directors & writers, and in association with Screen Queensland as a production assistant. She could not wait for her next acting job to get on set and see how filmmaking is done.

She is also professionally trained in theatre and has always been involved in local productions. Her most recent credit was for leading role as 'Pip' in 'The Morning After Phil' by Noosa Arts Theatre as part of the Three Act Play Festival. Emily and the ensemble received the audience choice award for this love story.

MEASUREMENTS

Height: 5'7

Bra: 12 C

Chest: 35.5 Inch

Womens top: 12 (S - M)

Waist: 26 .5 Inch

Womens pant: 10 (S - M)

Hips: 35 Inch

Shoe: 7

REPRESENTATION & LINKS

“Emily is an incredibly kind, collaborative and hard-working student and performer. I directed her in two different productions, and it was wonderful to see how much she grew as a performer over her time in the programme. Emily takes direction very well and is a great addition to any ensemble.” - Dr Hannah Banks (Head of Theatre and Performance at UniSC)

RubyBlue Artists

Rachel Forsyth
rubyblueagent@gmail.com
0421864796

