

Charlotte Grimmer graduated from NIDA (BFA Acting) in 2020 and also holds degrees in Dance, Drama and Education (QUT). Charlotte is currently touring her critically acclaimed one-woman musical comedy show "Initial Consult" around Australia after receiving a number of 4 and 5 star reviews from the Melbourne International Comedy Festival, Edinburgh, Adelaide and Sydney Fringes. She spent a year in New York City doing short courses and taking classes in acting, singing and dancing at Broadway Dance Centre, The Juilliard School, New York Film Academy and the Barrow Group. Charlotte is a passionate improviser and trained at The People's Improv Theatre in NYC and Improv Theatre Sydney. Charlotte creates satirical online content that has gained her a following of over 390k across both Tik Tok and Instagram.

Her comedy showcases a variety of characters born from social observations and lived experiences with mental health and eating disorder recovery. Charlotte has written a parody musical and is currently writing a TV Show. TV Credits: Frayed (ABC). Theatre Credits: Diana in Next to Normal (dir. Darren Yap), Morning to Midnight with The Other Theatre Company (dir. Eugene Lynch), Six (dir. Leticia Caceres).

AWARDS: Winner of Mental Health Commissioner SA Adelaide Fringe Grant.