

A Melbourne-based actor with additional bases in Sydney and Perth, Mercy Cornwall has built a dynamic screen career across television and film.

She has held lead roles in Invisible Boys (Stan) and Dive Club (Netflix) as well as a guest star stint on Home and Away (Channel 7). Mercy also has lead and principal feature film credits including Mistletoe Ranch (Jaggi Entertainment) and Birthright (Zoe Pepper).

In 2017, she appeared on The Voice Australia, showcasing her musical talent on a national stage.

Mercy has trained with Ali Roberts Studio in Perth and the Berg Studios and The Groundlings in Los Angeles, refining her craft across screen and improvisation.

She holds an undergraduate degree in History and Law, and a Masters in Journalism from the University of Melbourne, bringing a thoughtful, research-driven approach to her work both on and off screen.