

Brianna Bishop

Brianna Bishop is a graduate of NIDA's 2017 Music Theatre Diploma, during which she was an ensemble member of STC's Chimerica (dir. Kip Williams).

With a passion for singing and musical theatre Brianna has recently finished performing as a featured vocalist with Royal Caribbean Cruise Lines, with an offer to play Marty for their upcoming season of Grease the musical.

Prior to her time with RCCL In 2016 Brianna was part of Screen Australia's EMO the Musical as Ava the nerd girl, a feature film by Neil Triffet which is now available on Netflix. In 2017 Brianna also starred in 'The Disappearance of Fredrick Valentich' and 'Words of a Teenage Writer' short films (dir. Luke Robson) that went on to win awards at the 2017 Action on Film International Film Festival and the 2018 Cutting Room International Film Festival in New York.