

ABOUT ME

I am a graduate of the Queensland University of Technology (QUT), completing a Bachelor of Fine Arts (Acting) in 2024. Since graduating, I have worked consistently across screen projects throughout Queensland and across Australia. Most recently, I appeared in The Mosquito Bowl, directed by Peter Berg, set to stream on Netflix early next year, as well as the upcoming international film series The Enemy, premiering on Amazon Prime.

My screen work also includes several national television commercials, including a Seven Network campaign addressing toxic relationships among teenagers, and a long-running National Storage commercial currently airing across free-to-air television.
