

Growing up along the beautiful and rugged coastline of lutruwita (Tasmania), Veronicka found joy in music, dance, acting, and visual arts. This led to further studies in Printmaking and Photography at Utas, where she truly started her artistic journey. At FedUni, Veronicka grew as an actor and performer, loving the process of developing and creating characters and performances full of depth and duality. A highlight was collaborating and devising theatre as part of Federation University's Exquisite Corps: Neon District, directed by Laura Burzacott and musically directed by Ant Crowley, which married her performance skills with her creative knowledge as an artist. Veronicka enjoys a diverse range of theatre and has been involved with Cabaret Festivals, Spiegel Tent, Musical Theatre as well as productions of Realism and Shakespeare, performing as Titania in A Midsummer Night's Dream and Olga in an adaptation of Chekhov's Three Sisters.
