

About Oliver,

Oliver is a performing Singer/songwriter and personality around Byron Bay, NSW. He is new to modeling and acting, however his experience performing live has pushed him to take on various roles, "It's shown me how much I love to play with different characters. I use these archetypes to capture and connect with each relevant audience.. Every live audience wants something different". This has given him many of the skills that have taken others years to discover (performing live 5 times per week on average) He's eager to explore these skills further wherever he can. Oliver's other skills include surfing, snowboarding, personal fitness and outdoor adventure.