

MIKE DIGIROLAMO

MEET MIKE

Mike DiGirolamo is an Italian-American actor known for a distinctive presence that brings quiet intensity and nuance to his work on screen and stage.

Originally from the rust belt region of the United States, he now lives full-time in Australia.

He trained at the Professional Actor Training Program at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign and began his career with a role at the Steppenwolf Theatre Company in Chicago. After relocating to Los Angeles, Mike worked as an environmental journalist and broadcaster, covering global environmental issues and their intersection with human rights.

Outside of his professional work, he is a dedicated runner who has completed eight marathons, including the Boston Marathon twice and the Sydney Marathon, achieving a personal best of 2 hours, 48 minutes, and 56 seconds.

Across his work, Mike brings a considered and authentic perspective, with a focus on telling stories that resonate and offer insight into the human experience.

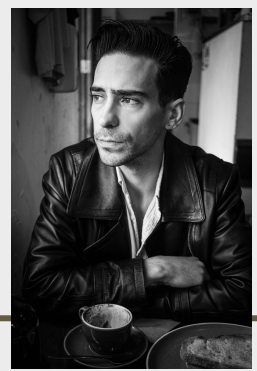

HIGHLIGHTS

Known for his nuanced performances, Mike brings a unique mix of experience and skill to the screen.

Mike accumulated a number of credits whilst working in the USA, including the likes of 'Miles' in the The Order, 'Miguel' in Oh, the Effing Horror, as well as 'Man in Grocery Store' in the comedy feature film Best Thanksgiving Ever. Mike holds an MFA in Acting from the University of Illinois.

As well as acting, Mike also models, and is currently working as an environmental journalist and podcast host.

One of Mike's notable career highlights was winning the 'Best coverage of Indigenous communities' (Radio or Podcast) 2024 Indigenous Media Awards (US), which was awarded for his work as an environmental journalist with Mongabay Newscast.
