

Emily McCaig is a Melbourne based aspiring actor. She has been training at Brave Studios in acting technique, voice work and scene study consistently since 2021. Emily has also previously received a Bachelor of Stage and Screen (Television Production) at Charles Sturt University.

Until 2021 Emily was previously working in the production side of television and has worked on shows like Struggle Street, The Project and Farmer Wants a Wife. Since then, she has dedicated herself to acting but has used her time working in documentary and reality television to gain further understanding of a variety of human experiences.