GABRIELLE

ROSE

ACTOR

ABOUT

Gabrielle Rose is an Australian actress who has extensively trained with respected casting professionals, directors, screen and stage performers since 14 years old. She consistently hones her craft and is passionate about Film and Television.

Her performances are intuitive and she is a thoughtful actor, always serving the scene and honoring the characters. Behind the camera, she is quick to see the best in any situation and leads with humour.

She has been taught by industry experts Dianne Eden, Andrew Jack, Philip Holder, Tim Ross, Astrid Wells Cooper, and has been directed by Grant Brown. Recently she underwent Assistant Directing training with Educator and Producer Liam Branagan, and regularly attends Advanced classes with Tom McSweeney.

Gabrielle has been involved in other artforms since childhood like piano, painting and writing, and regularly plays sports. She is currently working on her own screenplay and novel, with an ambition to write and direct. Other than being creative, her biggest loves are her dog Maya, Twenty One Pilots and debating anybody that doesn't appreciate Nicolas Cage.
