

HONOR WOLFF BIO

Honor Wolff is an actor, writer, creative and comedian making her mark in Melbourne's comedy scene. She is the co-creator of Hot Department and The Very Good Looking Initiative and has written, starred and toured in five award winning shows; Poopie Tum Tums, CULL, Batmania and Let's get Practical. Live! On screen Honor has written and performed for ABC's At Home Alone Together She has most recently been nominated for a Green Room award for Best Writing and Best Cabaret, and Best Comedy at Melbourne Fringe Festival.

Honor has also featured in various online comedy, including Aunty Donna, The Leftovers, Inside Aaron Chen as well as various original online content under Hot Department. Additionally she has performed as Hope in Untold by Justine Campbell and Sarah Hamilton at the MTC as a part of the Cyber Electric readings. She also co-created Batmania, Phenomenon, The Function and performed as Nina in Black Apple's reimagining of Anton Chekhov's The Seagull. She stars in short film The Greta Fragments, directed by Nic Barker as well as #nofilter and Cheapskate, and features in The Big Man, a short film by Andrew Mills. Honor also performs in upcoming Netflix show 'Why Are You Like This'.