Hannah Reilly is a writer, director, performer and broadcaster, best known as the co-creator, writer, star of ABC1's comedy series GROWING UP GRACEFULLY, 2017.

The series was released to critical acclaim and enormous online engagement. "3.43" – a musical number about the gender pay gap became a viral sensation has been viewed almost 8 million times. Sketches from the first series have been viewed collectively more than 15 million times on the ABC Facebook page.

Hannah and her sister Eliza recently released a four part comedy web series; SHEILAS, on amazing and forgotten women of Australian History, which was the first project of Screen Australia 'Gender Matters' program to go into production.

Hannah and Eliza also wrote and performed in their original production YARRAMADOON: THE MUSICAL, performed for a sold out and extended season at the prestigious Belvoir St Theatre as a part of their 25a Program.

Her work has been called:

"Genuinely hilarious...charisma that leaps off the stage and turns every character, no matter how absurd, into someone loveable."

- TIMEOUT ******

"sharp, surreal satire on womanhood that Australia needs"

- The Guardian

"sharp, funny and timely – especially in the hands of the Reilly sisters"

- The Sydney Morning Herald

"A whip-smart guide for young moderns" and "unexpected, highly enjoyable and laugh-out-loud comedy"

- The Australian. 'Pick Of The Week'

"It's easy to fall in love with sisters Hannah and Eliza Reilly"

- The Daily Telegraph, Best of On Demand
